From A Grateful Heart

JESUS ASKS US TO OPEN UP!

*Thus says the LORD, your God:
Say to those whose who are frightened:*

Be strong, fear not!

Here is your God!

*He comes with human vindication; with divine recompense
he comes to save you.*

Isaiah 35:4-5

Open up!

The word Jesus means God saves. This why the Angel tells Mary to name the child Jesus, because he will save God's people from death to sin.

The phrase, "Open up!" is used by kids to gain access to a building and by adults to gain access to reason.

Change seems to be the thing that happens most in our lives, yet we give it the most resistance possible as we try to retain control. It is not unexpected!

Growing up we all experience new facts, or call it change, whether in the facts of life, social order, customs, wisdom or faith. Children expect change as they gain wisdom. But as adults we decide when we are done acquiring new understanding and then stand our ground to maintain a position of authority or simple retain our pride.

The different forms of resistance to change can be:

- Stubbornness
- Ignorance without regret
- Intellectual rivalry (better to call it stubbornness)
- Resistance to God

All of these forms of resistance to change come out of the sin of pride. Pride is what caused the Pharisees to reject Jesus. Pride is what causes hoarding or monopolies in business, rivalries among professionals, scientists or intellectuals. Pride not only kills the progress of a whole society, it can ruin lives, families, and faith.

Jesus can save, but we need to OPEN UP to the message and saving power of that message. Our desire to be in control is a block to salvation if we do not let God become the change.

Open up to the God who has the power to save and be rewarded with a better life and a better society in which you live. Jesus can change hearts first and lives second!

May our Risen Savior bless you,

Fr. Pat Nelson, SDS

Ask Fr. Pat

Pretend you are a first time visitor to a Catholic Mass. Could you explain why we do what we do or would your response be, "That's the way we've always done it." If you have questions about the Catholic faith, about Catholic rituals, about Catholic Tradition, or about Scripture, ask Fr. Pat! If you are curious, others are, too!

Questions and answers may be featured in upcoming bulletins. Submissions will always remain anonymous.

PONDERINGS OF THE HEART

“But who do you say that I am?” ~Mark 8:29

Isaiah, James, and Mark all invite us to consider how we answer the question, Who do you say I am? Isaiah, a suffering servant, declares, “The Lord God is my help, therefore, I am not disgraced...” (Is 50:7). James admonishes those whose actions do not support their words, questioning “What good is it...if someone say he has faith but does not have works” (Jms 2:14). And, in Mark, Jesus asks both who others, the community, think he is, as well as who the disciples know him to be. With so much attention on this question, we would be remiss if we did not consider our own answer.

Have you ever wondered why Jesus asks this question? Why does it matter? Are the answers for his gratification or for our growth?

When I consider how I answer the question, I am forced to admit that the reply can appear to be fickle. Like Peter, I want to rebuke the idea of suffering, but Isaiah helps me to understand that God is the same benevolent parent, even in the suffering. In fact, if I am honest, it is in and through my suffering that I have moved forward in my relationship with God. There is no greater healer!

I must also confess that despite my best intentions, my actions often fall short of my words. One of the benefits of being so involved in my faith community and surrounding myself with other believers is that I have many James figures in my life who can lovingly admonish me when I need some redirection and perspective. Who are the James figures in your life?

Thanks to Sacred Scripture, Tradition, and a personal relationship with Christ, I am comfortable answering Mark’s question. The one that lingers for me, however, is, “Who does Jesus say I am?” Am I living as a believer? Does he recognize me as a disciple? ~Jacque

Thank you to the generous contributions of our parishioners, the Little Library, for children 0 to 5th grade, is here!

Please continue to drop off new or gently used children's faith books and/or contact Jacque Kelnhofer to arrange a directed donation and gift card.

How Does the Library Work?

*This is a library with no check-outs or check-ins!
Choose a book when you arrive - Return it before you leave*

For young children who can not yet read, and for children who would like to share the story with their families, you are welcome to take the book home and return it the following weekend. We encourage parents to use these books as an opportunity to share the Catholic faith with their children. It's also a wonderful way to begin modeling how we carry the knowledge we receive at church and carry it into our world!

Inside each book is a "Take Home Book Mark" that explains how the library works and includes a variety of prayers and formation on the back. Collect them all!
